

CPT JACK L ESPINAL
5529 Marconi Avenue
Carmichael, Ca 95608

SCHIESSSPORT SCHULE

DIALOGUES I

CPT JACK L ESPINAL
5529 Marconi Avenue
Carmichael, Ca 95608

SCHIESSPORTSCHULE DIALOGUES I

United States Women's International Rifle Organization

Reliable Reproductions, Inc.
Tempe, Arizona

COPYRIGHT

Copyright, ©, 1977, by the United States Women's International Rifle Organization

All rights to the publication reserved, including the right to reproduce this book or portions thereof in any form.

All proceeds from this book will be returned to the United States Women's International Rifle Organization

We invite your comments about Schiesssportschule Dialogues I

To order additional copies, send $6.00 to:

The United States Women's International Rifle Organization
P.O. Box 865
Mesa, Arizona 85201

DEDICATION

To Colonel Bill Pullum

who led U.S. shooters to the best rifle performances the world has achieved -- because he made us believe we could.

To U.S. International Rifle Juniors -

There is great concern today among top U.S. international rifle competitors over the lack of educational programs for development and training of future U.S. international coaches and shooters. One of the major goals of The United States Women's International Rifle Organization is the initiation of an international-style training program. Schiesssportschule, from which these lectures originated, is our first step toward achievement of that goal.

Immediately following the smallbore phase of the U.S. International Shooting Championships and Olympic Shooting Team Tryouts, held in June, 1976, in Phoenix, Arizona, a dozen top international junior rifle shooters attended our first Schiesssportschule - a shooting school designed to move the accomplished junior rifle competitor from national to international competition.

Along with Margaret Murdock as chief instructor, USWIRO was fortunate to receive the voluntary assistance of the finest international rifle shooters and coaches in the world - our U.S. international champions.

Lectures were of necessity informal - instructors were still competing in the Olympic tryouts while preparing their remarks for Schiesssportschule. The result is a mark of the kind of rifle champions we have in this country and a measure of their dedication to the furtherance of international shooting.

In Schiesssportschule Dialogues, our world champions have shared all the so-called "secrets" in order that all U.S. juniors may learn how to continue the U.S. tradition of excellence in international rifle competition.

"The torch has been passed to a new generation..." -- but you must accept the challenge -- and earn the right to wear the gold!

Marie Alkire

Director - Schiesssportschule 1976

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter			Page
1	Psychology of Shooting	Bill Pullum	1
2	International Three Position Shooting	Jack Writer	18
3	Effects of the Weather	Margaret Murdock	32
4	Mirage	Bill Krilling	48
5	Air Rifle	Margaret Murdock	53
6	Critique of the Standing Position and General Discussion	Margaret Murdock	61
7	The Kneeling Position	Bill Krilling	68
8	Supplemental Training	Lanny Bassham	72
9	Competitive Attitude	Lones Wigger	80
10	An International Shooting Competition and Some Thoughts About Training and Match Pressure	David Kimes	90
11	Managing a U.S. Shooting Team	Joe Berry	98
12	Coaching a U.S. Shooting Team	Bill Pullum	102
13	300 Meter Shooting	Jack Foster	109
14	Care of Equipment	Bill Wiseman	113

Throughout this book speakers will be identified by initial only.

STUDENTS

EA - Ethel Alves
MB - Marsha Beasley
BB - Becky Braun
KF - Kurt Fitz-Randolph
RF - Rod Fitz-Randolph
EH - Emmett Hines
GP - Cloria Parmentier
EP - Elaine Proffitt
TR - Tim Rennie
MS - Matt Stark
ES - Eric Stromberg
IW - Irv Whitney

INSTRUCTORS

MA - Marie Alkire
BA - Bob Alyward
LB - Lanny Bassham
JB - Joe Berry
JF - Jack Foster
DK - Dave Kimes
BK - Bill Krilling
MM - Margaret Murdock
BP - Bill Pullum
LW - Loncs Wigger
BW - Bill Wiseman
JW - Jack Writer
DZ - Diana Zimmerman